

T-BIDS

Technology-based Behavioral Intervention Delivery System

T-BIDS can help you:

- Convert research findings into products
- Deliver health interventions
- Deliver training programs
- Conduct research and collect data about users' health indicators, progress, and mastery of the curriculum

Along with our friendly staff, the Technology Based Intervention Delivery System (T-BIDS) provides a content management system for creating web-based intervention applications (apps) with integrated administrative support portals.

From our library of features, you select those that best support your program. We can also design custom features to meet the unique needs of your program.

T-BIDS protects all data collection and monitoring activities with state-of-the-art security protocols.

Here's how it works

BUILD YOUR PRODUCT WITH THE CURRICULUM EDITOR TEMPLATES

- The Curriculum Editor is the back-end content management system where you design the user experience.
- Select from a variety of features and tools to create the most effective configuration for your product.
- You can work with the Influents team or your own development team.

CREATE MODULES

Present a variety of content, such as:

- Text
- Media: Audio · Images · Video · Slides
- Games: Flip · Match · Buckets · Cloze · and more
- Quizzes: Many formats available, such as: Radio · Checkbox · Text

FACILITATE INTERACTION
